A RALEIGH ARTIST ABROAD —The Washington Sunday Chronicle says:

William G Browne, the eminent painter, has just finished a superb portrait of the Secretary of the Treasury. It is a three-quarters size, and was carefully painted from life. THE LAST OF THE MOHICANS.—U. S. Commissioner Purnell, had a long sitting Monday and went without his dinner. Gen. Blake and Jno. A Mongingham the last of the counterfeiters were brought to trial at 12 a. m sharp, on a charge of making and passing counterfeit money, and a conspiracy to defraud the Government. Blake was bound over in a $2,00 bail to appear at the next term of the N. Y. District Court.

Judgment was suspended in the case of Mongingham. Commissioner Purnell said that this was the last of the band. He had heard sixteen cases and was glad it was over. The nickles, quarters and half dollars were mostly counterfeited and are very good imitations They are scattered all over the State.

PETTY & JONES.—This old, popular and enterprising firm advertise in this morning's NEWS. The firm has long been prominently identified with the commercial interests of Raleigh and stands deservedly high in the esteem and confidence of our people. Since last July the business management of the house has devolved upon Major Yearby whose name in this section is a synonym for the highest business integrity and sagacity. The firm is doing a large but safe business, and it is with peculiar pleasure we note its prosperity as one of the institutions of our city.

TREASURY NOTES.—Drummer's license was issued to A. A. Shumway, Philadelphia, Floyd & Sappler, Philadelphia, Biddle Hardware Co, Philadelphia, T. A. Bryan & Co., Baltimore.

Thirty-seven thousand dollars worth of old bonds were received yesterday to be exchanged for the new issue. The Treasurer has a large number of letters offering to accept the compromise and his whole force is kept as busy as a bee in a tar barrel.

It is the opinion of the Treasury that the full amount of the State debt will be largely decreased by means of lost and destroyed bonds.

LIEUTENANT BUSBEE —Mr. Perrin Busbee, U. S. N., is at home for a few days on leave from the "Saratoga." We had a talk with him and learned that the "Saratoga" is a sailing sloop of war with a crew of some 150 boys and 5 men. The object of the ship is to train these boys for sailors and the "Saratoga" is shortly to take a cruise for that purpose. She sails from Hampton Roads for the Azores, thence to the Madeiras, the Canaries and the Cape de Verde Islands, returning to be in New York about August. She will also run a line of deep sea soundings between the Azores and Madeira.

Mr. Busbee speaks in high terms of the rapidity with which the apprentice boys learns their duties—it is certain, that if the complimentary notices published from time to time, about the ships are true that the officers deserve great credit for their diligence in training the youngsters.

SUPREME COURT —Court opened Monday at 10 o'clock; all the Justices present.

INFORMATION ABOUT THE STATE DEBT.—Treasurer Worth has issued the following circular letter:

In view of the numerous letters received at this Department, making inquiry concerning the provisions of "An Act to compromise, commute and settle the State Debt," ratified March 4, 1879, this circular letter has been prepared as a reply in which full information is given. The act above referred to provides for a compromise of the bonded debt, as follows:

CLASS I.

Bonds dated before the 20th of May, 1861, known as "old bonds," which the holder can easily identify by their dates, are redeemable at 40 per cent. of the principal, with all unpaid coupons attached thereto.

CLASS II.

The bonds redeemable at 25 per cent. of the principal, with all unpaid coupons attached, are of the following issues:

Issued since the close of the late war, by authority of an act passed before the war, for the Western North Carolina Railroad, dated at different times as follows: July 1, 1866; October 1, 1866; July 1, 1867; January 1, 1868; also bonds issued to same Road dated October 1, 1861.

Wilmington, Charlotte & Rutherford Railroad, dated at different times as follows: July 1, 1862; January 1, 1866; and January 1, 1867.

Western (Coalfield) Railroad, from Fayetteville, dated October 1, 1861.

Registered certificates of State Board of Education, in possession of the State Treasurer.

CLASS III.

The bonds to provide for funding the State Debt, issued under Act of March 10, 1866 dated January 1, 1866, and the bonds issued under Funding Act of August 20 1868 dated October, 1868, are redeemable at 15 per cent. of the principal with all unpaid coupons attached.

The bonds to be issued under the above mentioned Act are to bear four per cent. interest, and are exempt from taxation. Their coupons are receivable after maturity in payment of all State taxes. They will be delivered in exchange as soon as they can be prepared; and all bonds redeemable under the Act, which may be deposited with this Department for exchange before the new bonds are ready, will be receipted for and adjusted when the new bonds are received from the engraver. The following mentioned bonds are excluded from the Act:

The issues known as "special tax" bonds, which the holder can readily identify, as the statement on the face of each bond suggests its character; the issue to the Chatham Railroad Company under an ordinance of Convention of 1868, dated April 1, 1868, $1,000 each; the issue to the Williamston & Tarboro' Railroad Company, under the same authority, dated October 1, 1868, $1,000 each, the bonds issued on account of the Penitentiary, under Act of August 24, 1868, dated October 1, 1868, $1,000 each.

Very respectfully,
J. M. WORTH.
State Treasury.

PROF. KERR'S WORK.—The Governor has continued Prof. Kerr in office to write up his work of the past five years in manuscript for publication. It is thought it will take two months to complete the work, after which the Governor will appoint a geologist. This work will be done at the expense of the department of Agriculture—and no doubt will contain much valuable information.

IMPORTANT WESTERN ENTERPRISE —Representatives York and Harrell, of Wilkes, Council, of Watango, and Jones, of Caldwell, left the city this morning for Baltimore to be present to morrow at a conference between the President and Directors of Ore Knob Copper Company and the friends of the Yadkin Valley and Watauga Narrow Gauge Railroads. The Ore Knob Company propose to subscribe $100,000 towards the building of these roads and it is to perfect the arrangements for the subscription that these representative Western gentlemen visit the monumental city, where North Carolina ans always find a warm welcome. The present legislature appropriated $50,000, and 250 convicts to the Yadkin Valley road, and 150 convicts to the Watauga Narrow Gauge. The latter road is an extension of the Chester & Lenoir Narrow Gauge from Lenoir to Boone and the Cranberry Iron Works The Ore Knob Copper Company has a cash capital of three millions dollars and is abundantly able to make good its promises to these enterprises. Their importance in developing one of the great undeveloped sections of the State can hardly be estimated.

HON. R. F. ARMFIELD.
His Views on Some of the Questions of the Day.

Charlotte Observer

This distinguished gentleman, lieutenant Governor of the State from the time of Gov. Caldwell's death until the election in 1876, and now member elect of Congress from the seventh district, has been in the city for nearly a week past, being of counsel in the Pethel wife-poisoning case and left, yesterday morning, for his home in Statesville to make his preparations for going on to Washington. He will leave home next Friday in order to be present at the opening of the extra session on the 18th and in time for the caucus of the House Democrats should that not take place before Monday. A man devoted to his State and his section, Col Armfield takes his seat in Congress with the idea that the Southern man is as good as any other man, and with the idea that the time when the South might with propriety have held back and hesitated to assert its rights has gone by. He realizes that the South occupies a commanding position in the nation, and believes that it is its duty to avail itself of the advantages which its position gives it. Col. Armfield believes that the Union will never be fully restored until the South has its full share of all appropriations, of all foreign appointments, and can feel itself entitled—and have its right recognized—to assist to the presidency of the United States.

As to the matter of the speakership of the next House, Col. Armfield has no opinions or preferences which are not subject to change. He rates Mr. Randall as the finest parliamentarian in the House, but as at present advised is rather favorable to Mr. Blackburn, whom he regards as a bold, able and aggressive man. This is not a confirmed preference, however; and fuller information may bring about a change of mind on the part of Col. Armfield.

So far as the next presidency is concerned, Col. Armfield regards anything that may be said on the subject now as mere conjecture. He is of the opinion, though, that the contest is between Thurman and Tilden; that if the hard money wing of the party should prevail Tilden will be nominated; if the soft money wing, then Thurman. The South will, he believes, support Thurman, the South favoring a liberal currency, and Mr. Thurman being squarely planted on that platform.

Upon another point Col. Armfield speaks interestingly. He expects to see the day when the Democrats of the South be will found battling for the maintenance of the rights of the negro against the Republicans of the North. He made this declaration upon his canvass last summer, and is fully persuaded of the truth of it.

Col. Armfield is one of the most delightful talkers in the State. While all of our people knew him well by reputation before, many of them who had never known him personally, met him during his recent stay here and were charmed with him. Naturally his people have high expectations of him now as he is about entering upon his congressional career. He is recognized everywhere throughout the State—nowhere more fully so than in his own district—as not only a most courtly and engaging gentleman but as a man of commanding abilities; and it is no more than truth to say that North Carolina will not send to the forty-sixth Congress a representative who possesses in a more eminent degree than he those qualities which will render him alike an honor to his State and a useful man to his constituents.

"Mud Cut."

Charlotte Observer.

"Daylight entered Buncombe county to-day through the Swananoa tunnel; grade and centres met exactly." This is the wording of a telegram from Maj. Wilson, president of the Western N. C. Railroad to Gov. Vance, yesterday afternoon. It conveys a gratifying piece of intelligence to the people of Western North Carolina. It is the goal towards which President Wilson has been driving with might and main, and which has several times been, almost within his grasp, but just at the moment when he thought himself about to break through, some unforeseen difficulty has arisen. The slow progress made during the last several months was due mainly to the fact that it was necessary to ballast every foot of the tunnel as fast as it was dug out. It is not likely, however, that trains will be run through the tunnel for several weeks yet, as there is a good deal of work that must be done beyond the ridge, and there is little doubt but that it will be possible to ride into Asheville on the cars before the summer is ended.

The Senate was called to order at 10 a. m., President Robinson in the chair.

BILLS INTRODUCED.

Mr. Henderson, a bill concerning the out-houses of the Capitol.

Also, a bill to define "false pretenses."

Mr. Graham, of Lincoln, a bill, accompanied by a petition in reference to draining of certain lands in Lincoln county.

These several bills passed their first reading and went to the calendar.

Mr. Leach introduced a bill supplemental to the bill providing for a State Board of Health, the object being to meet certain requirements to enable the State to get the advantage of the provisions of the general law of Congress on the same subject.

This bill passed its second readings under a suspension of the rules and went to the House

CALENDAR

The following bills and resolutions passed their several readings or were otherwise disposed of as indicated:

Bill to drain certain lands in Lincoln county. Passed.

Bill to prohibit the use of drag nets in the waters of Bay River and its tributaries. passed.

Bill supplemental to the bill authorizing the levy of a special tax for graded schools, passed.

DAYLIGHT THROUGH THE BLUE RIDGE

The bill to authorize the Directors of the Western N. C. Railroad Company to contract for the construction of certain bridges was taken up. Mr. Davidson explained the provisions of the bill, and in concluding drew attention to the gratifying fact that after a quarter of a century's labor the telegraph of last night had flashed the intelligence to us that daylight had at lenghth pierced the Blue Ridge. (Loud applause.) The bill then passed its several readings and was ordered to be enrolled.

The bill to incorporate the North Carolina Railroad Company, was put upon its second reading.

On motion of Mr. Williamson, concurred in by Mr Mebane, the county was exempted from the operations of the bill, and on motion of Lyon, Henderson township, Granville county, also, and thus amended the bill passed by a vote of 30 to 4.

Bill to authorize the levy of a special tax in Lincoln county, passed its final reading.

THE SCHOOL BILL.

The engrossed House bill to regulate the public school system of the State, the special order was taken up. The bill as originally reported from the committee on education made it compulsory for county commissioners to levy a special school tax to make up the deficiency when the school tax may be found insufficient to maintain one or more schools in each district for a period of four months in the year. This was changed in the House and the matter of levying the special tax left discretionary with the commissioners. An effort was made in the Senate to restore the mandatory word shall, and it was evident that that was the wish of a large majority, but being assured that there was no hope of inducing the House to recede from its amendment, the Senate agreed to let the matter go as it stood rather than risk the loss of the bill on the eve of adjournment. The school bill therefore, as it came passed from the House, and is now the law.

ADJOURNMENT.

The Senate concurred in the House resolution to adjourn sine die on Friday next, at 12 m.

Mr. Leach, from the Committee on Internal Improvements, reported back the bill concerning the Augusta Air Line Railroad, asking to be discharged from its further consideration. [Mr. Leach said this bill had been held up by the committee at the request and consent of all concerned.] The committee were discharged accordingly.

Resolution in reference to the Penitentiary Sunday School, passed its final reading.

Bill to incorporate Centennial Lodge, I. O. O. F., Tolsnot, passed.

The bill to prohibit the sale or exchange of produce between sunset and sunrise, under certain circumstances also passed.

OLD DEBTS AGAIN.

The bill to be entitled an act to amend title 4 chap. 1., sec. 16 of chap. 17, Battle's Revisal in relation to the limitations of actions, was put upon its passage.

The amendment consists in striking out of section 16, chap. 1, title 4, Battle's Revisal, third line, from the words "this title shall not extend, etc," down to the end of the paragraph ending with the words, "without regard to the form."

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

WEDNESDAY, March 12, 1879.

Mr. Cooke presided at the opening of this morning's session.

CALENDAR.

Resolution in favor of Jesse Haithcock, allowing him $50 for the loss of a leg by reason of a wound at Gettysburg. Passed.

THE OXFORD ORPHANS.

Resolution providing for aid for the Oxford Orphan Asylum, allowing $3,000 annually to that institution, was taken up.

Mr. Atkinson offered an amendment providing that said sum be paid out of the Agricultural Department. He said the Agricultural Department could best stand the payment of this sum,—that its allowance out of the general fund would derange the whole revenue bill. He did not think the Agricultural Department was doing much good, and this appropriation would not hurt it.

Mr. Ardrey said Mr. Atkinson struck at the Department of Agriculture, in his amendment. He thanked heaven that the State could extend aid to both—the Department of Agriculture and the Asylum, and bitterly opposed the amendment. He said Mr. Atkinson himself had cost the Legislature more than all his retrenchment came to.

Mr. Atkinson's amendment was lost, and the resolution passed its second reading.

Mr. Cary offered an amendment providing for the establishment of an asylum for colored orphans at Oxford, a building to be erected to cost not more than $2,000. Lost.

The resolution then passed its final reading.

Mr. Bost moved to lay the motion to reconsider upon the table. Upon this the ayes and nays were called, when the House decided to table.

RAILWAY COMMISSIONER

Mr. McGehee made a motion to take from the table the bill creating the office of railway commissioner. He spoke of the importance of the question to the agricultural and commercial interests of the State. When the House voted a day or two since it was not fully informed as to the great merits of the bill.

The motion to take up the bill from the table was then put to a vote and lost, by a vote of ayes 35, nays 34.

Bill to repeal the law providing for the maintenance of lunatics outside the Asylum, came up on its final reading, and passed, by a vote of ayes 50, nays 31.

Resolution requesting our Representatives in Congress to secure an appropriation for the deepening and widening of certain rivers and sounds in eastern North Carolina, was adopted.

Bill to regulate the appointment of directors on the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railroad, who shall be twelve in number eight to be appointed by the Governor, and four to be chosen by the stock-holders, passed.

ALBEMARLE AND CHESAPEAKE CANAL.

Mr. Anderson moved to reconsider the bill by which the bill providing for the exchange of State bonds for the bond so the Albermarle and Chesapeake Canal Company was laid on the table this morning, and made some remarks in favor of the bill.

Mr. Turner opposed the motion as ring work, and swung out into a wild denunciation of the rings and this measure.

Mr. Moring had investigated the matter fully, and said we had only four miles of the canal and all the rest was in Virginia.

Mr. Lockhart said the exchange contemplated in the bill would result in benefit to the State, and desired to see the motion prevail.

Mr. Jones said that he believed the canal company owned no boats. In regard to tolls, it was the habit to charge by the boat, without any difference on account of cargo.

The motion to reconsider the vote tabling the bill was then put and prevailed.

The bill then passed its final reading.

A report of the committee of conference upon the revenue bill was read. It strikes out all the specific taxes as put in by the Senate and leaves the bill as it came from the House, with but few exceptions. The report was, on motion, concurred in.

The committee appointed to consider the bill for the better protection of the pupils of the Deaf and Dumb and Blind Institution, submitted a report by striking out the portion providing for the hospital, Mr. Atkinson of the committee protesting.

The Extra Session.

Congress will reassemble next Tuesday. It will be for Mr. Hayes to determine whether the session shall be short and placid or prolonged and stormy. For the first time in seventeen years the Democrats will find themselves in a majority in both Houses of Congress. The majority is not fortuitious or accidental, for it is fairly representative of the voting population of the country. Apart altogether from the means resorted to by the Republicans in prolonging their hold on the Executive branch of the Government, it is conceded that Mr. Hayes is a minority President, and hence in case of a contest between the Legislative and Executive branches of the Government, the former will be entitled to speak for the majority of the people, and the latter can make no such pretense. The business which calls Congress together can be very briefly stated. The Democratic party desire to eliminate from the body of Federal statutes certain measures which were held to be defensible, because the war had created an abnormal condition of affairs. The war ended just fifteen years ago; all the States have been restored to their former relations with the Government, and the right of self government is possessed by all of them on equal terms, as in ante-war times. The Democratic party believe the time has come for assuming that the Republic has got back to its normal condition. Hence they desire that no oath shall be required of any citizen which shall disqualify him from serving as a juror, because of the part he took in the war, or of the opinion he may have entertained concerning it fifteen years ago. They desire further that both the political parties shall be represented in the drawing of jurors to serve in the Federal courts, and that the several States shall be again intrusted with the sole authority of making laws for the conduct of elections and of enforcing them. In other words, the majority of the American people, as represented in Congress, desire, to the extent covered by these measures, to restore the Federal Government to its old relations with the States and with the people. The laws relating to the selection of Federal jurors are admitted by the Republicans to be indefensible, but they still maintain that the States and the people cannot be intrusted with the sole power to regulate elections, and to provide that they shall be fair and free, in cities with a population in excess of twenty thousand. In all other cases it seems to be admitted that the people can be trusted. Mr. Hayes is urged by the more extreme adherents of his party to bring the ordinary machinery of the Government to a stand still rather than suffer the representatives of the majority to carry out a purpose which simply restores the relation of the Federal Government to the States as it existed from the beginning and down to the period of reconstruction. The majority seek no party advantage; if they carry out their purpose, both parties will stand on equal terms.

The Question Mr. Dortch Didn't Answer.

When the report of the Committee on Investigation No. 3 was made, Everett (Radical) moved to print the testimony.

Mr. Alexander said: "I ask the Chairman of the Committee, Mr. Dortch, if the "threats and promises" were made to effect the action of the Senate or the Democratic caucus.

Dr. Dortch. I decline to say.

Mr. Alexander. I ask the Speaker to compel him to answer that the Senate may know how to vote. If it is only as to caucus matters the people ought not be taxed to print.

Speaker. I have no power to make him answer.

Mr. Alexander. I appeal to Mr. Dortch to answer as a matter of information.

Mr. Dortch. I decline to answer.

Blaine rose in the tobacco exchange at Richmond on last Saturday, and remarked with emotion that his maternal grandmother, whose tender memory was every hour present in his breast, was born on the sacred soil of Virginia; and that, "Whenever my voice can have influence to promote your prosperity, you can rely upon "me as upon one of your own noble "and distinguished sons. If I know "myself, I would vote for Virginia as "quickly as for Maine, for the South as "quickly as for New England. The "patient and heroic endurance of Vir"ginia under circumstances that might "well have discouraged the bravest "has enlisted for her the sympathies "and the admiration of the whole uni"verse, and it could not be in my "heart to think anything of her but "kindly." These words, tender and patriotic, are not those of a man who "has nailed the bloody-shirt to the "mast.

RAINEY, the negro congressman from South Carolina, and one of the retiring members of the Forty-fifth Congress, deserves mention for the faithfulness with which he has performed his duty during his term of service, and especially as a member of the Joint Committee on Enrolled Bills, in which capacity, at the first session of the Congress, he gained no small credit for his energy and sobriety. On that occasion Africa set an example which those of lighter complexions would not lose by imitating.

IT has been suggested that the committee on retrenchment sit during the summer and autumn and report to the Legislature of 1880.

How the Politicians Look at It.

The New York Herald having discovered in sundry interviews at Albany and Washington the strength of Tilden among New York politicians, extended its inquisition over the whole country through interviews with the democratic congressmen, and finds that he is by no means so strong out of his own state,—in fact that he is not strong at all. The tabuiated opinions of 127 representatives from 27 states (exclusive of New York and the 10 solid republican delegations) show that 57 declared themselves emphatically against Tilden, while 13 made him their first choice, 9 would find him acceptable and the rest had nothing to say about him. Some, like Gov. Swann, of Maryland, discarded him "on the ground that he hasn't the vitality to properly administer the office.

The North Carolina members are thus slated:

"Mr. Jesse J. Yeates, of the First District of North Carolina, said that Thurman is a wise, good, honest and faithful patriot, and a suitable man to be the standard bearer of the democracy. Mr. Yeates thinks he will receive the Democratic nomination in 1880. Tilden was selected President and should have secured the office. Grant will be the Republican nominee.

"Mr. Alfred M. Waddell, of the Third District, thinks Thurman is the coming man. Tilden is not popular enough, although he was badly treated. North Carolina prefers Thurman. Hendricks is also liked. Grant, he thinks, will be the choice of the Republicans.

"Mr. Joseph J. Davis, of the Fourth District, believes Thurman has the inside track. If Bayard puts himself on proper record he will be a great favorite. Tilden had one fair trial. The wrong which was perpetrated on him will create sympathy, but not enough to justify the Democratic party in trying him again. Grant is the coming man with the Republicans, and will carry that element that wants to inaugurate jobbery.

"Mr. Alfred M. Scales, Fifth District, thinks the contest rests between Thurman, Bayard and Tilden. A reaction has taken place in favor of Tilden, but before the reaction he had no chance. Thurman suits the South. The people of that section have not looked forward to Tilden's renomination. They are anxious for Thurman or Bayard. Some prefer Mr. Hendricks. His section of the State is favorable to Thurman. Grant will be nominated by the Republicans.

"Mr. Walter L. Steele, Sixth District, says Tilden has no chance. There is a feeling of hostility toward him. The Democrats have not been particularly fond of New York for the past ten years, and a change is necessary. He, personally, does not want Tilden. Thurman is his preference. Under Thurman, he thinks, the liberty of citizens and proper rights of the people will be fully protected. Grant, he says, is the winning horse for the Republican nomination.

"Mr. William M. Robbins, Seventh District, thinks 'the probabilities are that Thurman is the coming man with the Democrats, as he occupies a commanding position before the country and the Senate, and the country sees that he takes on all great measures manly and statesmanlike positions, such as to command him to the Democratic party, who are zealous for popular liberty and local self-government. Hendricks is a good man, too, but he seems to be in the background. Bayard is in a prominent position, and has the confidence of the country for his noble character and unquestionable integrity and devotion to right. But he is comparatively a young man and can afford to wait. I think the party would prefer to take Thurman now. Grant has the inside track.'"

"Mr. Robert B. Vance, Eighth District, is of the opinion that either Hendricks or Thurman will be nominated by the Democrats. He thinks these men are more and more acceptable to the party, particularly in the South. Tilden cannot be renominated. Grant is sure of the Republican nomination. The Greenback movement amounts to nothing. It is limited in extent. The Democrats and Greenbackers will unite to carry out to some extent the wishes of the latter.

IF the partisan argument, which is urged in certain Republican quarters, that the Democrats cannot be trusted to maintain a fair elective system, it must be apparent to the most stupid partisan that no possible chance should be given to them to exercise the power which the existing Federal election laws would place at their disposal.

THE LEGISLATURE will hardly have a quorum to-day. The important work left over from the regular session has been completed, and the members can now return to their homes and constituents. The NEWS wishes them a safe return and many days of prosperity and happiness.

THE PUBLIC is not interested in the personal quarrel between "Littleton" and "X. Y. Z." and for that reason their communications are respectfully declined.

Mr. McGehee.

Hillsboro Recorder.

The honored representative from Person has been in his seat in the House for the past ten days, and we are glad to say is steadily, though slowly regaining his health. He is watchful and ready to express himself on all important questions, which he does with an impressiveness of language and of argument that carry irresistible influence. The House pays a tribute to Mr. McGehee when he speaks, honorable to itself, and honorable also to him, by hushing into perfect silence when he rises. All the hubbub is at once stifled, and his voice listened to with most respectful and deferential attention.

Limit your expenses to necessity and comfort, leaving a good margin for "balance saved."

PUBLIC PRINTING.

Testimony of Messrs. Leach, Moring and Carter.

J. M. LEACH.

J. M. Leach being duly sworn says: "I am a member of the Senate of North Carolina representing a district from Davidson county. I have read the resolution. Col. Clark approached me in the lobby of the Senate some time previous to the election of Public Printer and expressed a desire that I should support the NEWS for Public Printer and give it my influence, stating that he was my friend and the NEWS had been also, and he thought if I would exert my influence the NEWS would be elected. He said the NEWS would stand by its friends and fight those who opposed it. Without giving a decided and distinct answer I replied that my purpose was to discharge my duty as a Senator in the interest of the party; that hereafter I meant to take care of my personal and political reputation and denounce above my signature any paper or man who attacked me or my motives, whenever in my opinion a vindication became necessary. I further intimated that I should feel it my duty to support the Observer, speaking at the same time in kind terms of the NEWS and expressing a hope that neither its defeat nor that of the Observer would tend in any way to disintegrate or disturb the harmony of the party. Colonel Clark said that the NEWS had done the public printing well and satisfactorily as he believed and had incurred heavy expenses for machinery, etc., and thought that every consideration of justice required that it should be supported again; the conversation was a friendly one.

CROSS EXAMINATION.

Question by Col. Clark: Is it your own rule of action to stand by your friends?

A. It is when they are right, and it is not when I think they are wrong.

Question by Col Clark: Do you not generally oppose those who oppose you?

A. I do. J. M. LEACH

JOHN M. MORING.

John M. Moring being duly sworn, says: "I am Speaker of the House of Representatives of North Carolina and represent Chatham county. On the evening on which the caucus met to determine the matter of public printing, and an hour or two before the meeting, Col. Walter Clark called to see me at my room. There being gentlemen in my room, I went out in the passage to talk with him. We had a conversation, of which the following is the substance: I could not give the exact language. Col. Clark began by saying that if I could do nothing for the NEWS I must not do anything against it; that the Speaker of the House of Representatives heretofore had not been in the habit of attending caucuses, and that I might absent myself on that ground. I told him I should go to the caucus. He then said that I had better be very careful; that I might need the help of the NEWS in the future, and the NEWS proposed to fight its enemies. I told him I should use the present without regard to the future. He then walked off down the passage and I turned to go to my room. He called me back again and asked me to say to the friends of the W. N. C. R R that if they did not vote for the NEWS its columns would be turned against their interest. I replied that I would deliver the message. I told Mr. Carter, of Buncombe, before we left the hotel I think, also Mr. J. L. Robinson, Speaker of Senate, and others, before the caucus was called to order. I don't know what connection Col. Clark has with the NEWS. I have heard Col. Clark speak of the policy of the NEWS and its editorial management, but not within the last year.

CROSS-EXAMINATION.

I do not give the exact language of the conversation had with Col. Clark, only the substance.

Question by Col. Clark: Was not this this the exact language: "Say to the Western North Carolina Railroad people that it is said they are combined against the NEWS; say to them that the NEWS has kept its hands off of them, and they are acting imprudently."

A. It is not. I am sure it does not express the substance of the message.

M. E. CARTER.

Q. Did Mr. Moring communicate to you any conversation which he had with Col. Clark; if yes, state the substance of the communication.

A. He did, just before the meeting of the caucus, saying that Col. Walter Clark had said to him, "Tell the Western members that if they don't give the NEWS the printing, the NEWS would make the Legislature take away the appropriation to the Western North Carolina Railroad." I only give the substance of what Mr. Moring said.

M. E. CARTER.

WALTER CLARK.

I used no improper influence with any member or Senator in regard to the disposal of the public printing by the caucus. I desired to see Mr. Jordan get the printing. I thought he had good claims on the party, and to four or five gentlemen I did speak in his favor on the subject. I used no influence, proper or improper, to affect the vote of any member or Senator as such. The Legislature, under the law, has no control of the disposal of the printing, it being by law vested in a committee. I did not speak to any member of the committee to influence their action as such committeemen in the disposal of the printing by them.

[The above testimony has hitherto been excluded from our columns upon the ground that the committee exceeded its authority under the resolution in receiving it. Failing to establish Col. Clark's identity with the printing either by agency or interest this testimony was irrelevant and its publication as an official record is in derrogation of every sentiment of fair play and common justice and an outrage upon every rule of evidence.

But justice to the gentlemen so vehemently attacked in Col. Clark's letter, printed in yesterdays' paper, demands its publication and any further vindication on the aggrieved parties may deem proper. The letter appears over the signature of a responsible party, otherwise its personal character would have excluded it from our columns.—ED. NEWS.]

Another "Extension".

Charlotte Observer.

The advocates of the extension of the Atlantic, Tennessee & Ohio Railroad, to Elkin and beyond, are much encouraged by the spirit which the people are manifesting in the matter. Elkin itself, a very small town, has subscribed $25,000.

The love of justice in most men is nothing but the fear of suffering from injustice.

From Anson.

Correspondence of the News.

ANSON, COUNTY March 11.

Allow me to congratulate you on the appearance and "character" of the News. It's manly, outspoken, fearless, independent course for the past year, on all questions of public interest has won for it the staunch and lasting respect of all who read it hereabouts.

Small politicians, those of the "cheap John" sort, who think that everybody else, like themselves, is up for sale, may not like it. 'Tis proper and becoming that they should not.

The thinking, respectable, solid masses of the people do like it, and bid you "go ahead."

Spring opens beautifully; fruit trees blooming seemingly just at the right time, shad running freely, martins, rusty lizzards, wasps and high-land terrapins moving around; hens laying so rapidly that the children have to "snap" afternoon school to save the eggs; garden truck growing; farmers busy, and the region round about the railroad redolent with ye insinuatin and gentle order of ye guano. The "spake" of the wood-cock and the skywid twitter thereof are heard at even tide; and now and then a broil of the delicious bird graces your correspondents breakfast table.

The health of our county is good the M. D's being comparatively idle. Dr. Battle has been absent near three weeks in attendance upon his father, whose serious illness causes much regret amongst our people. Many remember him as circuit judge, and all respect and honor him.

There is a very decided and general opposition here to abolishing or at all interferring with the Agricultural Department so acceptably presided over by Col. L. L. Polk. It is not because he is an Anson man; but he has nobly done his duty, and because men of intelligence and discernment see that if unhampered, and encouraged properly, he will make the Bureau of incalculable value to the State. I have heard no man object to the salary. Let him be sustained, let the Department be continued, let the appropriation as it is now and the people will be satisfied.

Immediately, profitable results may not occur, but sensible people see that in the not distant future advantages and profits will occur which will cause all to "rise up and call blessed" Polk's Agricultural Department.

Speaking of health and doctors calls to mind a visit to Doctor Edmund Ashe, brother of the distinguished and able Associate Justice on the Supreme Court bench, which I made yesterday. Probably there is not in North Carolina or elsewhere, a more thoroughly educated physician or a more successful practitioner. As a gentlemen, unprofessionally, he has no superior. Of "good stock" he is a worthy representative. His health has recently been feeble; but his countless friends are pleased to notice a recent very remarkable improvement and the "dwellers at home or the dispersed abroad" will join in the wish that many years may yet be spared. So far as age is concerned he is in the prime of life, though disease has not spared him, and he has suffered greatly.

Of Anson's noted men, no one, I imagine "wears better," or is more favorably known than Alas J. Dargon, one of "natures noblemen." One of the most brilliant and naturally gifted of the many who have rendered the bar of North Carolina illustrious. He has at his command the fairest and brightest honors that ever man aspired for, and no man ever had more or warmer personal friends. He is growing old now, though vigorous and good for another decade. Long may he flourish.

Wadesboro is growing and her business increasing. Next fall we propose to have the biggest and best local fair ever held in the State. Men are at work who will make it such. Several counties will unite in the enterprise. Donations and prizes are already coming in and every indication is favorable. Will not the News give us a helping hand? THAT'S ALL.

The Outlook at Washington.

Correspondence of the News.

WASHINGTON, MARCH 10th.

There is some feeling of alarm this morning about the organization of the House, at least three Democrats have declared that they will remain away from the caucus if there is a probability of Randall's receiving the nomination. The fight for the Speakership has opened in dead earnest this bright Monday morning. Randall and Blackburn have opened headquarters at Willard's where the friends of each are setting up the pins for a move on the caucus next Saturday. Both sides are buoyant with hope of success. The old cry is raised again by Randall's friends and the Northern Democrats that it is not yet time for the South to ask for such an important position. Randall was the guest of Mr. Tilden last week at Gremarcy Park where it is said the two Sams talked over the presidential outlook and the successful man for the speakers gavel. It is generally understood that Randall represents the Tilden faction in the South end of the capitol. The adherents of Blackburn are pressing his claims with much earnestness and claim a victory for him. Whitaker the representative from Oregon is on his way here, says he will be here Saturday to cast his vote for Blackburn.

The reassembling of Congress will throw an army of office and place seekers in the city. The first batch of the poverty stricken creatures of both sex arrived last night from Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky. It is estimated that there are over two thousand applicants for the two hundred and sixty three positions to be filled in the Senate and House. Outsiders are held back until ex members and Senators are provided for which swells the number largely. They all want some government place from a secretaryship to a fifteen hundred dollar clerkship. The predictions are that the extra session will last until July and probably longer.

Hayes has become very much enraged at the action of the Democratic House and says "he intends to exercise the veto power to its full extent if a Democratic Senate and House does not confine its business to the proper channel of legislation."

How They Retrench in Massachusetts.

Springfield Republican.

The retrenchment committee of the Legislature have no intention of dodging any issues. They will push their work sharply up to the limit of the session, which it is now expected to come within 100 days. The bill retrenching the lower courts of the State will be reported this week, and it is predicted that the pruning will be both generous and judicious. Gov. Talbot devotes himself to the State-house business, beginning early, staying late and taking his lunch from the "beanery" in the basement, while the retrenchment committee are considered a miracle of industry under the gilded dome. They sit from 9 a. m. until 10 p. m., taking out the time necessary for eating and are certainly making a good record. The State-house leaders are plainly and honestly attempting to get the State back to Gov. Talbot's peace basis. The governor is cordially backed up by his lieutenant governor and council, and an excellent working spirit prevails.

Vegetine

FOR

CHILLS, SHAKES,

FEVER AND AGUE.

TARBORO, N. C., 1878.

DR. H. R. STEVENS:—

Dear Sir,—I feel very grateful for what your valuable medicine, Vegetine, has done in my family. I wish to express my thanks by informing you of the wonderful cure of my son; also, to let you know that Vegetine is the best medicine I ever saw for Chills, Shakes, Fever and Ague. My son was sick with measles in 1873, which left him with Rheumatism. My son suffered a great deal of pain, all of the time; the pain was so great he did nothing but cry. The doctors did no help him a particle, he could not lift his foot from the floor, he could not move without crutches. I read your advertisement in the "Louisville Courier-Journal," that Vegetine was a great Blood Purifier and Blood Food. I tried one bottle, which was a great benefit. He kept on with the medicine, gradually gaining. He has taken eighteen bottles in all, and he is completely restored to health, walks without crutches or cane. He is twenty years of age. I have a young son, fifteen years of age, who is subject to chills. Whenever he feels one coming on, he comes in, takes a dose of Vegetine and that is the last of the Chill. Vegetine leaves no bad effect upon the system like the most of the medicines recommended for Chills. I cheerfully recommend Vegetine for such complaints. I think it is the greatest medicine in the world.

Respectfully, MRS. J. W. LLOYD.

VEGETINE.—When the blood becomes lifeless and stagnant, either from change of weather or of climate, want of exercise, irregular diet, or from any other cause, the Vegetine will renew the blood, carry off the putrid humors, cleanse the stomach, regulate the bowels, and impart a tone of vigor to the whole body.

Sanford's Series comprises four books, and is based upon the analytic system:

Sanford's First Lessons in Analytical Arithmetic, 16 mo., 27 cents.

Sanford's Common School Analytical Arithmetic, 355 pp. half roan, 90 cents.

Sanford's Higher Analytical Arithmetic, 16 mo., 419 pp. half roan. Cloth sides, $1.25.

The definitions are clear, and the analyses exhaustive. The work is practical, and abounds in slate exercises. The experience of a large number of the best teachers in this country is that, with Sanford in hand, pupils discover an unwonted enthusiasm in studying the science of numbers.

The Complete Series of Worcester's Dictionaries.

Worcester's School Dictionaries are based upon the quarto, which is preferred over all others by eminent scholars and men of letters. The series is admirably adapted to use in Schools, Academies, &c.

Liberal terms for introduction. We desire that Sanford and Worcester be examined by County Boards and principals of private schools. Correspondence solicited.

Pass Under the Rod.

BY MRS. DANA.

I saw the young bride in her beauty and pride,
Bedecked in her snowy array;
And the bright flush of joy mantled high on her cheek,
And the future looked blooming and gay;
And with woman's devotion she laid her fond heart
At the shrine of idolatrous love,
And she anchored her hopes to this perishing Earth
By the chain which her tenderness wove.

But I saw when those heart-strings were bleeding and torn,
And the chain had been severed in two,
She had changed her white robes for the sables of grief,
And her bloom for the paleness of woe;
But the Healer was there, pouring balm on her heart,
And wiping the tears from her eyes;
He strengthened the chain he had broken in twain,
And fastened it firm to the skies!
There he whispered a voice—'twas the voice of her God—
"I love thee, I love thee—pass under the rod!"

I saw a young mother in tenderness bend
O'er the couch of her slumbering boy;
And she kissed the soft lips as they murmured her name,
While the dreamer lay smiling in joy.
O, sweet as the rosebud encircled with dew,
When its fragrance is flung on the air;
So fair and so bright to that mother he seemed,
As he lay in his innocence there,
But I saw, when she gazed on that same lovely form,
Pale as marble, and silent and cold;
But pale and colder her beautiful boy,
And the tale of her sorrow was told;
But the Healer was there, who had striken her heart
And taken her treasure away;
To allure it to Heaven He has placed it on high,
And the mourner will sweetly obey.
There had whispered a voice—'twas the voice of her God—
"I love thee, I love thee—pass under the rod!"

I saw a father and mother who leaned
On the arms of a dear gifted son,
And the star in the future grew bright to their gaze
As they saw the proud place he had won;
And the fast-coming evening of life promised fair,
And its pathway grew smooth to their feet;
And the starlight of love glimmered bright at the end,
And the whispers of fancy were sweet,
And I saw them again bending low o'er the grave,
Where their hearts dearest hope had been laid,
And the star had gone down in the darkness of night,
And the joy from their bosom had fled.
But the Healer was there, and his arms were around,
And he laid them with interest care;
And he showed them a star in that bright upper world—
'Twas their star shining brilliantly there!
They had each heard a voice—'twas the voice of their God—
"I love thee, I love thee—pass under the rod!"

Some How or Other.

Life has a burden for every man's shoulder,
Some may escape from its troubles and care;
Miss it in youth and 'twill come when we're older,
And fit us as close as garments we wear.

Sorrow comes into our lives uninvited,
Robbing our hearts of their treasures of song;
Lovers grow cold, and friendships are slighted
Yet somehow or other we worry along.

Every-day trial is an every-day blessing,
Though poverty's cottage and crust we may share—
Weak is the back on which burdens are pressing,
But stout is the heart that is strengthened by prayer.

Somehow or other the pathway grows brighter
Just when we mourn there are none to befriend;
Hope in the heart makes the burden seem lighter,
And somehow or other we get to the end.

Interested benefits are so common that we need not be astonished if gratitude be rare.

He that has more knowledge than judgment is made for another man's use rather than his own.

Discontent is a vital element of civilization; without it there would be no progress.

A man's own observation, what he finds good of and what he finds hurt of, is the best physic to preserve health.

"Better is a dry morsel and quietness therewith," than a long list of subscribers who cheateth the printer.

"Hope deferred maketh the heart sick," is a proverb sadly realized by the publisher who sendeth out bills.

Charity taken in its largest extent, is nothing else but the sincere love of God and our neighbor.

Good for a Quarter of a Century

When the Legislature of Louisiana in 1868 pledged the faith of the State to preservation of the franchises of the Louisiana State Lottery, it build better than it knew, for the supreme law of the land, as decided by the Supreme Court of the United States, has pronounced the dictum that a contract made must be adhered to, and the franchises of the Louisiana State Lottery, with its vast capital of over a million of dollars, must remain for fifteen years yet, until the expiration of the original term.

Three china tea sets left Law's last week carrying pleasure and joy to as many country homes. Several sets of knives with silver forks, also, were brought away by visitors to the city. LIVER PILLS

FOR THE CURE OF

Hepatitis, or Liver Complaint,

DYSPEPSIA AND SICK HEADACHE

Symptoms of a Diseased Liver.

PAIN in the right side, under the edge of the ribs, increases on pressure; sometimes the pain is in the left side; the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side; sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade, and it frequently extends to the top of the shoulder, and is sometimes mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; the bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternative with lax; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred where few of them existed, yet examination of the body, after death, has shown the LIVER to have been extensively deranged.

AGUE AND FEVER

DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, IN CASES OF AGUE AND FEVER, when taken with Quinine, are productive of the most happy results. No better cathartic can be used, preparatory to, or after taking Quinine. We would advise all who are afflicted with this disease to give them a FAIR TRIAL.

For all bilious derangements, and as a simple purgative, they are unequaled.

Those upon having the genuine DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, prepared by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa., the market being full of imitations of the name McLane, spelled differently but same pronunciation.

LIVER

This important organ weighs but about three pounds, and all the blood in a living person about three gallons) passes through it at least once every half hour, to have the bile and other impurities strained or filtered from it. Bile is the natural purgative of the bowels, and if the Liver becomes torpid it is not separated from the blood, but carried through the veins to all parts of the system, and in trying to escape through the pores of the skin, causes it to turn yellow or a dirty brown color. The stomach becomes diseased, and Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Constipation, Headache, Biliousness, Jaundice, Chills, Malarial Fevers, Piles, Sick and Sour Stomach, and general debility follow. MERRELL'S HEPATINE, the great vegetable discovery for torpidity, causes the Liver to throw off from one to two ounces of bile each time the blood passes through it, as long as there is an excess of bile; and the effect of even a few doses upon yellow complexion or a brown dirty looking skin, will astonish all who try it—they being the first symptoms to disappear. The cure of all bilious diseases and Liver complaint is made certain by taking HEPATINE in accordance with directions. Headache is generally cured in twenty minutes, and no disease that arises from the Liver can exist if a fair trial is given.

BLOOD

Grave mistakes are made in the treatment of all diseases that arise from poison in the blood. Not one case of Scrofula, Syphilis, White Swelling, Ulcerous Sores and Skin Disease, in a thousand, is treated without the use of Mercury in some form. Mercury rots the bones, and the diseases it produces are worse than any other kind of blood or skin disease can be. DR. DAILY NEWS
THURSDAY, MARCH 13, 1879.

News Telegrams.

French Politics.

LONDON, March 12.—The Standard's correspondent at Paris says: "The impeachment motion is likely to have a result which its authors do not contemplate, viz: The beginning of a crusade to put down noisy demagogues who aim at rendering government impossible under every regime, and who are now adopting measures against the Republic to which they resorted against the empire and monarchy of July. The feeling of irritation is general throughout the country against these mischievous fanatics, who, whenever things happen to be settling down, start an interpolation or defamatory attack upon some minister, or a motion for impeachment of a former minister, or a resolution for the rehabitation of the committee. The tone and temper of the country, as well as of the House, require protection against these incendiaries, if the government shrinks from taking measures to render them inocuous, the country will get tired of the government. The unanimous outcry is: 'We have had too much of all this: we want to be let alone, and have no more playing at the 1793 committee of public safety and the reign of terror.' The Republican papers which support the impeachment, are the Rappel, the Revolution, Francais, The Marzaleize, The Lantern, The Petit Parsien, The Eveuement, and the Petite Republique Francaise. Those which oppose it are the Temps, The Presse, The Liberte, The Ziele, The National, The Dix.

8,000 Souls Perish in the Water

LONDON, March 13.—A despatch to the Daily News from Szegidin this (Wednesday) at 8 o'clock says: "After a fearful night of anxiety all efforts were useless. The water broke through with an immense force at 3 o'clock, carrying away part of the railway station embankment and rolling stock. Within three hours the town was many feet deep in water. Terrible suffering is commencing, shrieks and cries from thousands are heard, houses are crashing by the score, and in many cases carrying their inmates with them. God knows what we shall do to night. There is no gas—the works being 15 feet in water. I fear we shall run short of food. One boat, just going to save a large house full of people, when a fearful crash carried with it the whole living freight. The scene is simply heart-rending. Over 80,000 people are out of house and home, hundreds are drowning and the water is still raising rapidly.

The Pope's Policy.

ROME, March 12.—The Vatican organ Voce Della Verita gives great prominence to the following: Several liberal papers have reiterated the statement that the Pope in consequence of the pressure of Cardinal Franning or the French Bishops, has changed his policy and ranged himself behind non possumas and revindication of temporal power. We are able to most decidedly contradict this fiction. The Pope in no other way than did his predecessor, has protested and will protest until such provisions are made as right and reason require for the dignity and liberty of the holy see.

The Negro and the Republican Party.

Congressional Record.

Mr. Davis, of North Carolina, said:—Our republican friends commit a radical mistake when they assume that the colored vote belongs to their party as a matter of right. Their argument, syllogistically put, is this:

First. The party that gave the colored man the right to vote is entitled to his vote.

Second. The republican party gave him the right.

Therefore, the republican party is entitled to his vote.

Colored men are beginning to comprehend this and to understand that if it is good logic, it may be bad policy; and when they remember how often the men for whom they have voted have cheated and swindled them, it is not strange that they should conclude to change their votes, and regard good policy as better than double logic. They have found by experience—that best of teachers—that the average white radical who came down from the North and professed so much love for them was often a hypocrit, still oftener a swindler and sometimes a thief.

In my district, for instance, some of them can understand the disgrace and feel the shame of having sent to this Hall one of my predecessors whose highest merit was that he did not pretend to be honest and who after having been detected in "ways that are dark," and charged with taking a bribe, which he confessed, resigned his seat, coolly assigning as a reason therefor, to use his own language, that he deemed it his duty "to make vacant the place he had disgraced" (See Congressional Globe, volume 76, page 1617.) He never returned to North Carolina, but returned to his own State, Ohio, without even taking leave of his confiding "man and brother."

They remember, too, that some of their pious friends organized a bank for them in this city. I hold in my hand now one of the "deposit books" of this institution in which thousands of our colored people deposited their money under such assurances as the following—I read from the book: "Instead of hiding your savings in a napkin, put it in the bank where it will be making money for you;" and then follows a statement to show how it will pay. "Let us see," says the little book, "how much a man who saves ten cents every working day for ten years will have if he puts it out at interest at 6 per cent; and then follows the calculation, showing that he would have $411 13. Many of my deluded colored constituents put their money there, and have only gotten back thirty cents on the dollar. A large portion of the money of which they were thus swindled, as was proved before a committee of the Forty-fourth Congress, was used to carry the election for Grant in 1872.

They are beginning to comprehend the situation and to think for themselves and to ask: "How is it that our good friends who love us so, and who are always whining about our rights and wrongs, especially as election time approaches, how is it that these good friends have never invited us to Maine or Michigan, to Massachusetts or to Minnesota, to Iowa or to Indiana, or to some other northern State where sweet liberty was born and grew for us?"

Sir, our republican friends underrate the colored man if they suppose that he can always be deceived by the cunning arts of the men who first bewildered and then swindled him. It is a mistake to suppose that he will not follow the great law of self-interest which governs other men—especially our republican friends—and vote in accordance with their interests. In my section, at least, he is beginning to find that his interest is not with the republican party, which unduly taxes the products of his labor—the party which put a tax of twenty-four cents per pound on his tobacco to pay the interest on the untaxed millions of the bondholder and the capitalist.

The Celebrated Seven Spring Iron and Alum Mass

This is decidedly the most useful, besides being the most efficient Family Medicine ever placed within the reach of any people. Its reputation extends far and wide, and its great popularity is due entirely to its own merits For relieving Sick and Nervous Headache it may be truly said, to have no equal Dyspeptics find it just the remedy for their troubles Mothers and daughters have long since discovered in its use a "panacea" for their worst ills; and now we have the testimonies of two eminent ministers of the gospel, from Southern cities, setting forth its specific effects in other more dreaded and troublesome diseases.

Rev. John F. Mayne, Theological Seminary, Columbia, S. C., writes: "Am afflicted with that terrible disease, 'Diabetis;' am using the 'Seven Springs Mass' with considerable degree of relief; is the only remedy I have yet found to suit my case; want to continue its use until a cure is effected if possible. Send worth of the enclosed P. O. order immediately.

Such heaps of brackets and window shades.
His pictures are exposed to public view
And a variety of cord to suspend them too,
His looking glasses and toilet cases
Will help adorn your forms and faces;

Our country is getting to be fearfully alarming, the average of life being lessened every year, without any reasonable cause, death resulting generally from the most insignificant origin. At this season of the year especially, a cold is such a common thing that in the hurry of every day life we are apt to overlook the dangers attending it and often find too late that a fever or lung trouble has already set in. Thousands lose their lives in this way every winter, while had Boschee's German Syrup been taken, a cure would have resulted, and a large bill from a doctor been avoided. For all diseases of the throat and lungs, Boschee's German Syrup has proven itself to be the greatest discovery of its kind in medicine. Every Druggist in this country will tell you of its wonderful effect. Over 950,000 bottles sold last year without a single failure known.

Dread and despair fall upon the community when a terrible epidemic, like the cholera or yellow fever, suddenly desolates our homes; yet, all the while, a more insidious, but no less fatal foe, enters thousands of households every year and carries off the flower of the family in the early flush of manly youth and budding womanhood People call it consumption, "decline," it is not, in most cases, tuberculur phthisis or consumption of the lungs, which is the peculiar malady in climate like those of the British Islands and New England, but a general decay or arrest of the vital process of nutrition All the doctors agree that there is no remedy for this but COD LIVER OIL but they are constantly met by the obstacle of inability on the part of the patient to swallow or retain it. This repulsion is entirely overcome by SCOTT'S EMULSION OF PURE COD LIVER OIL with the HYPOPHOSPHITES OF LIME AND SODA which is agreeable to the taste and an unequaled nutrient and tonic for the body nerves and brain.

A Remedy that has been Remedied.

The invincible repugnance felt by almost every one to the smell and flavor of cod Liver Oil, has prevented tens of thousands of the victims of debility from realizing the benefits of its peculiar healing and nutritive properties. The almost hopeless consumptive, the martyr to rheumatism, the barely living shadow of men, women and children that emerge from the fetters of malarial fevers, all of these know, or at least their doctors know, that of all discovered remedies, this Oil is the best and often the only one that will build up their wasted bodies, and send new health shattered nerves, and far more effectively than the Oil by itself is Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil with the Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda. This is the most perfect and most natural food and medicine in the world, and wholly deprived of its disagreeable qualities. Sold by Wm. Simpson, Druggist. March 4-d&w3w

Rescued, Restored, Revived,

It is marvellous how the wounded cuttines of the form are restored, the pale and sallow cheek vivified with the ruddy hue of health; the muscular fibre braced and strengthened, the nervous system and the brain toned and invigorated, by the steady use of Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda. It is by far the most elegant and effective preparation in the whole catalogue of medicines, and in the disorders indicated by scrofula, consumption chronic coughs, and the various forms of debility, it is a wonderful remedy. It is also deprived of all its disagreeable properties, and as sweet and palatable as cream. feb 14 1p
